Introduction

Whole Education's 7th Annual Conference offers practical solutions and wider perspectives on how school leaders can use creative approaches to grow great schools. At a time when schools have to manage shrinking resources, it will demonstrate how thinking differently about curriculum, assessment and pedagogy can create opportunities out of challenges.

Key contributors

- + Prof. Andy Hargreaves (full day seminar)
- + Sir David Carter, National Schools Commissioner
- + Baroness Estelle Morris, former Education Secretary
- + Prof. Becky Francis, UCL Institute of Education
- + Prof. Jonothan Neelands, Associate Dean of Creativity, Warwick Business School
- + Ann Mroz, Times Educational Supplement
- + Ben Saunders, Polar Explorer

+ Plus contributions from school leaders, staff and students from primary and secondary schools
